PROFILE

I am an iOS developer with more than 5 years of professional experience in various dynamic work environments. My main strength lies in app development. In previous roles, I developed 10+ iOS apps that were released on the App Store. I am self-motivated and detail-oriented. I excel at organization, collaboration, and work well individually or with a team. I obtained a Bachelor and Master Degree in Computer Science and am currently studying ESL at Western Nevada College.
